

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs) FOR THOSE SEEKING A CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION

What is a nomination?

Each year Congressman Brooks receives many inquiries from students who wish to attend a U.S. Service Academy from Alabama's Fifth Congressional District. Title 10 of the U.S. Code establishes two types of nominations: a) Congressional, and b) military service-connected.

A student may seek a nomination from the following:

- Member of the U.S. House of Representatives who represents the congressional district in which the candidate resides
- Both U.S. Senators from his/her state
- Vice-President of the United States

Students whose parents are military service-connected may also apply for a Presidential nomination. For a Presidential nomination, apply after July 1st of the year prior to admission and before January 31st of the year of admission. For Vice-Presidential nominations, apply by October 31st of the year prior to admission.

Applicants to all service academies, except the United States Coast Guard Academy, are required to obtain at least one nomination by an official source. The most successful candidates apply to all available nominating sources: Congressman Brooks, both Senators, Vice-President and President. Students are encouraged to apply to all nominating sources for which they are eligible.

What are the basic eligibility requirements?

Each applicant for a nomination must meet the following eligibility requirements as of July 1st of the year of admission to an academy:

Why does Congressman Brooks use a nominating board?

This board evaluates applicants and recommends candidates for nomination. This well-qualified, non-partisan board will ensure a fair and impartial process. Most members of this Board are Academy alumni.

What criteria does the board use in selecting candidates?

Nominations are based on a "whole person" evaluation. Factors such as academic achievements, extra-curricular activities, leadership skills, physical aptitude, character, motivation and interview are taken into consideration and compared with other applicants.

What "method of nomination" does Congressman Brooks' office use?

Nominations will be determined using the competitive method with all nominees submitted unranked to the academies, allowing equal opportunity for each candidate nominated from the district. This method allows Congressman Brooks to nominate up to 10 qualified candidates for each available opening. The Academy itself will make the final selection.

How do I open an admissions file with the academies?

All students must contact the academies they are interested in attending directly to open an admissions file.

Is the application process the same for all of the service academies?

No. Although many of the qualifications are similar, each Academy has its own selection process for admittance. Applicants must complete the application process for each Academy that they are considering attending. Visit the Academy of your choice via the websites noted for each academy's admissions qualifications. Nominations are required for all except the U.S. Coast Guard Academy.

If I receive a nomination will I automatically be selected by the Academy?

No. You will be placed among a select group of nominees, and the Academy of your choice will make the final decision. If selected, you will receive an offer of admission (an appointment) directly from the Academy.

What if I choose more than one academy? Will I be limited to a single nomination?

No. It is possible to receive more than one nomination depending on how well you have competed among this year's pool of candidates. It is recommended to apply to at least two academies. It is also recommended to apply to both the Merchant Marine and Coast Guard academies in addition to the Air Force, Naval and Military academies. The most successful candidates apply to at least three academies, thereby giving themselves the most option of earning an appointment.

When will I know if I have been offered an appointment by an academy?

Some academies will begin to notify candidates of their admission status as early as January. All offers of appointment are generally sent out by mid-April. The Academies will award appointments after the candidate file is reviewed and the candidate is determined "fully qualified." Academies review files weekly, so it is in the candidate's best interest to have their file at the Admissions Office completed by early January.

How many service academies are there?

- The U.S. Military Academy at West Point, New York
